Celebration

Thursday evening was a notable one in the history of Constitution Lodge, No. 88, Knights of Pythius of Kittery, the occasion being the joint observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order and the twentieth anniversary of the institution of the lodge. The lodge had as special guests members of Quambygan Lodge of South Berwick and Rathbone Lodge of Derwick.

At 8 o'clock Past Chancellor Fred A. Stone called the assemblage to order and extended a hearty greeting to the visiting brothers. The special ritualistic service commemorative of the Golden Jubilee of the order was performed by Chancellor Commander Fred O. Trefethen and the officers of the lodge, the tri-colored lights, blue, yellow and red, representing the tenets of the order, friendship, charity and benevolence, were burned both inside and outside of the lodge room. At the conclusion of these services a pleasing incident took place when Past Chancellor Henry I. Durgin, in well chosen words presented Mark W. Paul, who for the past nineteen years has held the office of Master of Exchequer with a gold emblematical ring in recognition of his service and the 80th anniversary of his birth which occurs today.

Dr. Durgin spoke as follows: "At though the battle of the Wilderness

A PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

Rogers Mission Circle of the North Church Give Three Plays.

The Rogers Mission Circle connected with the North Church held a very pretty entertainment consisting of three plays and sale on Thursday afternoon and evening in the North Church chapel. The following is the cast of characters:

The Foam Maiden.
Molra Helen Colburn
Michael, her son Waldo Phinney
The Foam Maiden Eunice Canney

The Three Wishes.
Andre Lawrence Leavitt
Lizette, his wife Virginia Pannier
The Stranger Norman Nichols

The Brewing of Brains.
The Wise Woman of the Fels Lillian Dicks
Darlock Richard Loring
Elizabeth Louis Shepard
Miss Mary Hoffenger, coach Miss Edith Brewster, stage manager; Mrs. Thomas Noyes, chairman.

This entertainment was given at 1:30 in the afternoon and 8 in the evening. The sale included: Girls' work and fancy work table, Miss Helen Walker, Miss Frances Hoffenger; boys' table, Mrs. Arthur Howard, Miss Colburn; bundles, Eloise Hodgdon, Doris McNabb, Florence Johnson, Frances Cummings; candy, Doris Sikes, Phyllis Sikes, Louis Leavitt, Emily Washburn, Edna Boyd; ice cream, Frances March, Marion Lard.

The tables were very prettily arranged in keeping with the season of Washington's birthday and were filled with attractive and tempting articles. The young folks made all of the fancy, useful and other articles which they sold readily.

The mystery booth was most novel and unique, it being an effigy of a snow man. This was a great drawing card for the children.

The young amateurs were certainly a credit to their parts and rendered their respective roles in an excellent manner.

The stage setting was very pretty, and represented the old Dutch home with all the detailed characteristics of such a setting. The plays dealt with the immortal, the myth and made in which the Dutch believe.

Vocal solos were rendered between the plays by Miss Eunice Canney.

The affair was most successful and the children are deserving of much credit for their faithful and enthusiastic work to make the event what it was.

NEW HAMPSHIRE IS CONCERNED

Congressman Stevens and Chairman Niles Discuss Railway Affairs.

Washington, Feb. 19.—New England was thrown upon the complexities of the task of reorganizing the Boston & Maine railroad from the New Haven system at the department of Justice today, when Representative Stevens of New Hampshire and Chairman Niles of that state's public service commission told officials how Boston & Maine affairs are interwoven with the laws of that state, and how the people are interested in every thing which concerns the road.

Although no appointments have been made for the appearance of representatives of other states at the department, it is possible that before the terms of the separation agreement are ratified, the whole of New England will have participated in the negotiations.

At the conference today the department was represented by T. W. Gregory and Jesse C. Adkins, the attorneys in charge of the case.

New Hampshire, they were told is almost as much interested in the Boston & Maine as is Massachusetts, and in the years that the Boston & Maine has operated in that part of New England, New Hampshire has enacted many laws which may have an effect upon the proposed agreement.

Mr. Niles was invited to visit the department in order to learn what he could in solving the New Hampshire phase of the problem.

In consequence of this conference, Mr. Gregory did not have an opportunity to see the department.

THE SENATE WILL NOT OPPOSE PRESIDENT ON
PANAMA CANAL TOLLS

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Wilson pressed further for repeal of the exemption clause of the Panama Canal Act in conferences today with congressmen. He talked with Senator Kern, majority leader, who said afterward that the Senate first would dispose of the arbitration treaties promptly, and probably take up the tolls question immediately thereafter. He thought it probable that the Senate would act on the repeal before the House did. Although Mr. Kern voted for the exemption he said today the President had told him of various international phases of the question which were not before the Senate when the Panama Canal act was passed. He added that he was not prepared to announce his position. Friends of the Administration expect he will be among the Administration supporters. House leaders, it was announced today, desire some announcement of message to Congress by the President before reversing themselves on the tolls question, so as to be able to make clear to their constituents that international circumstances had arisen requiring a change. Underwood Opposition Not Active. Representative Underwood, it is understood, while still believing in the tolls exemption, will not organize any opposition to the President in the House. Representative Palmer, co-man of the Democratic caucus, said today that he had voted against the exemption, he would work actively for its repeal. Chairman Henry of the House Rules Committee went to the White House and offered the President his help in expediting both the tolls question and the trust bills, as said he believed both the House and Senate would repeal the exemption clause within the next sixty days, and he ordered the trust bills to be out of

IF CHILD IS CROSS,
FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated, Cleanse Little Bowels With
California Syrup of Figs

Children love the fruit laxative and nothing else cleanses the tender liver stomach and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then their little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. (Latin Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile, and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give California Syrup of Figs, because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.

had not yet been fought, or Sherman's triumphal march to the sea effected, the smoke of battles of the Civil war had begun to clear away, when the beautiful story of the friendship of Damon and Pythias as a theme, and the betterment of mankind, for a purpose, the ritual of our order was compiled, and the Order Knights of Pythias began its existence.

Now its domains have extended, its membership increased, and its beneficent influence permeated society, members and homes, will be told you by others.

The tides have ebbed and flowed, the moons have waxed and waned, and tired day has sunk into the arms of restful night for 20 years, since 60 men, many of whom are present, met in this hall to institute Constitution Lodge, No. 88 K. of P.

You remember that strenuous night and how you barely got to your work next morning the session was so long.

What the lodge has meant not only to its members, but to this town at large, it is well known to us all. The care of our sick, burial of our dead, a degree team at one time that attracted state-wide attention and a gratifying financial condition are things for which we are grateful to the promoters of this lodge. Many charter members are present. To you we express our appreciation of your early efforts and continued interest. Some of our charter members are unable to be present because of illness. We regret their absence and wish for their speedy recovery to health. Some have been gathered in to the higher lodge above where we trust they bask continually in the sunshine of eternal friendship.

To all our members and visitors we extend a cordial welcome, and thank you for your presence here to assist us in the observance of the 20th anniversary of Constitution Lodge. Incidentally, my Brothers, we cel-

GRAND OFFICERS VISIT
COURT ROCKINGHAM

There was a large gathering of Foresters on Thursday evening when Court Rockingham installed their new officers and at the same time entertained the grand officers and members from Court Tripoli.

The officers of the Court Rockingham were installed by Supreme Dea. P. J. Kennedy of Tripoli, assisted by Grand Secretary William Callahan of Keene, and Grand Treasurer Edward F. Brooks of Concord. The officers installed were:

Chief Ranger, Thomas A. Moran,

Sub. Chief, Eugene Sullivan, Financial Secretary, John Leary, Treasurer, John E. McLean, Recording Secretary, John Armstrong.

Woodwards, Michael Daley and Patrick Healy, Bendles, John McLean, Joseph Gorman, Trustee, James Whitman. This work was followed by an oyster supper, and a social hour of good fellowship. The Court last three months in one month, but start the new year in a fine financial condition.

celebrate another anniversary tonight. For ere tomorrow's sun shall have reached its setting, our venerable Master of Exchequer will have rounded out four score years of life. We honor him for his record as a citizen, business man and official of town and lodge. We love him for himself alone.

As an expression of our appreciation and esteem, it is my pleasant privilege in behalf of the members of Constitution Lodge, to present to you, Brother Mark W. Paul, this beautiful ring. The pure gold of which it is composed represents our idea of your untarnished honor; the emerald is typical of the friendship of this band of Brothers, while the whole may convey to your own best wishes of this, your natal day, and the hope that many beautiful sunsets may intervene between the lengthening shadows of your life's afternoon, and the darkness of its night; when it shall be said of you, "He lived to bless mankind."

Following the exercises in the lodge room the members of Constitution Lodge and their guests adjourned to the banquet hall and enjoyed the following menu: clam chowder, escalloped oysters, rolls, pickles, pies, assorted cake, doughnuts, coffee. When cigars were passed Dr. Henry I. Dargin was introduced as toastmaster and the first speaker was Fred W. Cross, who was the first Chancellor Commander of the lodge and who related many incidents in connection with the institution of the lodge. Other speakers were Charles R. Wasgatt, Mark W. Paul, G. H. Sanderson of Damon Lodge, Portsmouth; Charles H. Brooks, William E. Grogan, William T. Burroughs, Fred A. Stone,

Fred Port, Frank W. Horrocks, Edgar Barnham, George A. Houlter, John W. Green, Frank Kase, Albert Nagell, Albert Killings of Alpine Lodge of Pittsburg; R. E. Moore, Fred O. Trevelthen.

A vote of sympathy was extended to Brother George B. Gibson, who was detained at his home by illness.

The event was one of the most enjoyable in the history of Constitution Lodge and will be pleasantly remembered by those fortunate enough to be present, for a long time to come.

Insurance, Industry and Thrift.

In a recent address before the Boston Life Underwriters' Association, E. J. Clark, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, made the statement that 85 out of every 100 men leave at their death no income-producing estate, that 90 per cent. of the widows lack the common comforts of life and that 35 per cent. of them are left in absolute want. Of course, the remedy for this lamentable state of things, according to the speaker, is life insurance. He is a life insurance man and was addressing life insurance men.

And life insurance is all right. It is one of the best things in the world, but it is not the only means by which a man, if reasonably successful and prudent, can leave something for the support of his family in case he is taken away. A home that is paid for, humble though it may be, is worth much to a family that has been bereft of its head, and a savings bank account, even though not large, is very helpful. All of these things are entitled to consideration along with the propriety and desirability of a reasonable amount of life insurance which every man, at least every family man, should carry.

One of the beauties of life insurance is that the money goes to the widow or children and cannot be taken from them to satisfy any claim. It is theirs. If property is left in any other form it can be taken for debt. To be sure, honest people would not in ordinary circumstances avoid the payment of legitimate debts, even under the protection of life insurance laws, but it is worth something for a widow, having perhaps a number of young children, to be left in a position where she and they do not face the poor-house, whatever befalls.

So much can be said for life insurance. But a mistake is made by any man who depends entirely upon it to provide for his family in case of his removal by death. Every man should endeavor to have something of his own. He should strive to own his home and to have a little nest-egg laid by that he can put his hand on in case of exigency before death. He should try to place himself in a position in which he has not got to die to win.

Attempts in this direction will lead to industry and thrift, the most valuable forms of life insurance the world has ever seen.

Is it quite necessary to have so many deadly poisons in the family medicine chest? Mrs. John A. Logan of Washington, widow of the famous Civil war general, came near losing her life the other night by taking a poisonous dose by mistake. Aside from special forms for tablets and special labels, it would seem as if there was a little responsibility resting upon the people themselves.

Passengers who tried their luck with a pack of gamblers on a recent trip across the Atlantic did a foolish thing, and a still more foolish one by squealing about their losses after they landed. Persons of gambling propensities should do one of two things: refrain or accept their losses like men.

It has been found that wireless telegraphy affords little protection against collisions at sea in fog. On land the political fog is sometimes so dense that trouble is experienced when the wires are supposed to be in perfect working order. Wires and wireless have their limitations.

The world is full of trouble. Submarine men occasionally have difficulty in coming up, and a Maine man who invented a windmill recently had a terrible time in getting down from the tower. But hardship is one of the penalties of invention and exploration.

A woman is lecturing in different parts of New England on "How to live on $1,800 a year." Most families would be able to solve that part of the problem if she would tell them how to accumulate the $1,800.

Mayor Curley of Boston will stick to his congressional job till June 1 to save the expense of a special election. The motive is good and the task agreeable.

Reno, Nevada, has been jarred by an earthquake, but that is no more than right. Reno has been jarring the rest of the country for years.

The quickest and surest way to locate the missing relatives of a dead man is to show that the deceased left a sizable estate.

Now the W. C. T. U. is turning its attention to the "booze tablet." But why not wipe out booze first?

If New York city isn't careful it will acquire the reputation of being the blizzard center of the east.

An anti-slang club has been formed, a fact that in itself will call out a lot of slang expressions.

REED APPEALS FOR WORK

Wants Torpedo Fleet Assigned and Boats From Bath Commissioned Here.

Congressman Reed in a recent visit to the navy department where he was for an hour engaged with Secretary Daniels on matters connected with the Portsmouth yard. During the conference the congressman from the first district brought up the matter of torpedo boats that were built at Bath going in commission at other yards, which means more or less minor repairs and alterations while at a government station. He explained how these boats were formerly delivered here, and the reason why they later were commissioned at Boston. He also made a request for the assignment. Although the secretary could not give him a definite reply as to such boats for the yard at present, he promised to take up the other matter at once, and we have good reason to believe that the two torpedo boat destroyers now under completion at the Bath Iron Works will go in commission at the local yard.

SOUTHERN SONG

(For the Transcript)

Sunlight in the window shines;
 Bluebirds calling from the pines,
 Mamma must be up betimes
 Working for her baby.

Baby must not stay in bed.
 Sun-kissed clouds are overhead,
 Dances of roses blushing red
 Waiting for my baby.

Soft the Southern breezes blow,
 Daddy's working with his hoe,
 That will make the cotton grow
 For my little baby.

Harvest time will soon be here,
 Drifted snow the fields appear,
 Mamma'll make a dress this year
 For her little baby.

Blessed Southland calm and fair,
 Song and fragrance fill the air
 With enchantment everywhere
 For my precious baby.

CURRENT OPINION

Peril in Judicial Oligarchy;
 Contented People Either
 Ignorant or Hopeless.

It has been said that a contented people have no annals. The present current among the people, strange as it may seem, is one of the best signs of the times. When people are content they either are ignorant of better conditions or hopeless of attaining them.

In this country, as in all countries, the control of the government is in the hands of the few. We have learned that the form of government amounts to little. The real question is, "Where does the control of government reside?"

In 1776 we issued a declaration proclaiming the rights of mankind and their equality and freedom. And then the champions of government by the few quietly but effectively took control of the government.

The overwhelming preponderance of the judiciary has been unexpectedly created by decisions of the supreme court of the United States without a line in the constitution to authorize it when that body assumed the right to veto any act of congress it chose to hold unconstitutional.

This doctrine has been seized upon as a boon by the special interests and by all who believed at heart in the government of the many for the benefit of the few. It has practically made the courts the dominant power in every state in the union. Whenever any progressive statute has not been in accord with the economic views entertained by the courts they have generally exercised their power to declare such statute unconstitutional because it was not "due process of law."—Chief Justice Walter Clark of North Carolina Supreme Court.

He is returning during his absence, Dr. Cowles may accept several invitations that he has received to lecture on his return trip.

Rev. Lucius Thayer read the following poem:

Portsmouth, Lady of the River,
 Throned upon thy rocky seat,
 Ocean's strong arms thee encircle,
 While the salt tides lave thy feet,
 Sweet the tang of ocean's breath is,
 When the soft fog hides thy face;
 Distant breakers make thee music,
 When the hurrying storm clouds race.

Strawberry Bank, thy restless river
 With its eddying, hurried tide,
 Floweth landward, seaward, ever,
 Thy gray wharves and fields beside;
 Ofttimes cold, forbidding, sullen,
 Yet at sunset hour, behold!
 Crimson fire that streams and ripples,
 Wavelets flecked with red and gold.

Red men haunted once thy river;
 Roamed the forests, their domain;
 Named "Piscataqua" this region,
 Where thou sittest now as queen.
 Comely ships and gallant sailors
 Dropping seaward with the tide,
 For adventure, warfare, treasure,
 Made thee famous, far and wide.

Lordly merchants, bold in traffic,
 Brought rich wares from over seas.
 Fisher folk, with fares well laden,
 Set their sails to every breeze.
 Here there thrived a breed determined,
 Wise to guide the ship of state,
 Setting justice in the city;
 For the nation's daring fate.

From thy past the breath of romance
 Steals across these hushed days,
 Pictures great, whose names are cherished,
 Ghost-like, walk the ancient ways.

Gentles, poor wights, live in legend;
 Still they haunt in quaint attire,
 Market, tavern, hall and garden,
 Where they glowed with youthful fire.

Heaven bless thee, well-loved city,
 And in these thy latter days,
 For thy heritage, give children
 Who shall bring to thee no dispraise;

WORTH KNOWING.

The United States capital at Washington is one of the most majestic buildings in the world. It was first begun in 1793, when the north wing was founded. This was finished in 1850, and the south wing was begun in 1817. The building was burned by the British in 1814, and rebuilding did not begin until 1817. In 1851 the new extensions began, the House of Representatives first occupying the present hall in 1857, the Senate its present quarters in 1859. The dome was constructed between 1856 and 1865. The cost of the building has exceeded $30,000,000.

Heaven set thy name in honor,
 From the White Hills to the sea;
 Make thy homes the happy dwellings
 Of a people nobly free.

From the motley folk that gather,
 Men of every tribe and clan,
 Spring the loyal son and brother;
 Come the citizenly man.

Portsmouth, not the least of cities
 Built of old along the shore,
 North from thee great souls emerging,
 Thou shalt bless earth as of yore.

Portsmouth, rock-bound on thy river,
 Yet a mystic life is thine;
 In our grateful hearts we cherish
 Thee, an influence most divine.

Purged of all thy dross we see thee,
 With thy domes and spires most fair;
 Blazoned on thy walls, prophetic,
 Name of old, "The Lord is there."

ENVOY.
 River flow! Our days are fleeting.
 City bide! We pass away.
 Memories won and hopes awakened
 Well endure eternal day.

The New Savings Bank Era

$1,450,822,622 is the estimated deposit of the Savings Banks in our country. 10,000,801 is the number of depositors and the average deposit amounts to $144.64. The above figures, if indeed almost incomprehensible, are nevertheless interesting to note. In this common fund with its uncommon power, we find the accumulation of the widow with her mite, or with her dowry; the laborer with his little hoard; the young worker saving for a home; the youth struggling for an education; the saver laying aside for old age, and the miser with his hoard. Each deposit in itself is infinitesimally small, but pooled together this vast amount becomes a mighty force in the physical world.

If this entire savings deposit were heaped in the vaults of banks, our country would be the poorer for having the savings habit, but when we consider that this is the money that builds our railroads and bridges, gives our streets, erects schools, libraries and public buildings and turns out thousands of dollars in the form of loans on real estate to individuals and municipalities, we come to realize that as well as serving the individual in his longfought, the Savings Bank likewise serves as a helpful disbursement agent to the individual, the community and the state. Let The Savings Bank be perhaps the greatest assemblage of money the world knows, and is one of the chief sources of available capital for municipal and corporate enterprises.

Accepting the foregoing statements, our interest lies in considering how we can best benefit from this Great Treasure House. Possibly the reader may be one of those successful individuals who has already accumulated a fortune and is satisfied with his life as it is, but more likely he is of an open minded nature and willing to take up with a proposition that will tend to make himself more prudent, more economical and at the same time place him in a position whereby he may be better able to meet the needs of the future.

The fact is, we are living in an extraordinary age. Luxury is prevalent on all sides, demands upon us are more than we can stand up under, and our standard of living has reached a higher level than we really can afford to keep up, and the question comes to us: How can we stop where can we save; and how can we bring our activities in a more conservative basis?

The Savings Banks have heard this appeal from the multitudes and have endeavored to meet this evident need by presenting a device unpretentious in itself, yet by its acceptance encouraging the individual in thrift, making him more prudent and economical, and better able to obtain effective results from his industry.

The plan as adopted in various forms is a Home Savings System. It is equally advantageous to Bank and Individual. The little rate is loaned to depositors and the psychology of saving is most interesting. Ordinarily the human being abhors compulsion and takes pleasure in free initiative. The banks do not compel one to save, but the power of suggestion is strong. One disdains to go to a bank with ten cents or a quarter, and, for the bank teller would rather not be bothered with such a small amount, but the saver can be dropped into the "little" habit by at home and continuing the practice on a small scale and accumulate a habit of saving.

Many and interesting are the stories of men, women and children who have developed a habit of thrift and economy through this home savings device, and those who have not already adopted this successful Savings System should get into the and take advantage of the success of others.

Have No Power Over the Duties of Overseer of Poor--Junk Licenses to Be Held Up for Inspection.

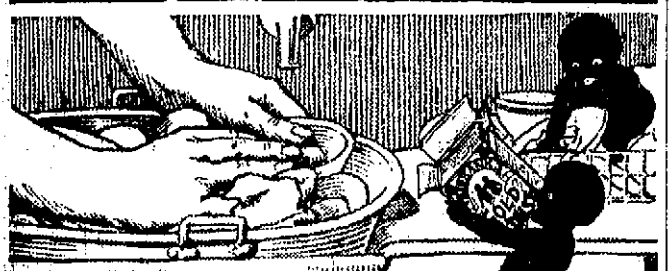

There was a brief meeting of the City Council on Thursday evening with but very little business to transact.

Mayor Yeaton read the following opinion from City Solicitor Poyer on the resolution of Councilman Frank Woods introduced at the last meeting to the effect that the city should be allowed to purchase their supplies wherever they choose.

The general manager of the Overseer of the Poor advised that the City Statute (Pub. Statutes Ch. 84) and that in his opinion the Council has no power to direct the manner in which he shall perform his duties. The report was accepted.

There were a few petitions acted upon.

And was granted further time in the ordinance to regulate dancing and dance halls.

Councilman Bennett called the attention of the Council to the fact that under the rules a yeo and nay vote should have been called on the bond issue and on his motion the bill was again called and it passed on roll call by a unanimous vote.

The usual resolution to authorize the city clerk to renew all licenses was introduced and Councilman Tilton objected and said that the licenses should be closely scanned before being renewed. He was absolutely opposed to granting licenses to men who have been before the court.

City Clerk Drew said that the licenses were granted after being approved by the Chief of Police and Councilman Tilton said he was willing to leave it to the police. Councilman Jierick was also of the same mind.

A suggestion that the resolution be withdrawn and that all of the licenses come before the Council for action, was agreed upon and the Council will go over them at one time.

A communication was received from S. W. Emery in behalf of John McPhoe agent of the Drawn estate, protesting against the charge for entering the sewer on Washington street, as Mr. McPhoe had laid a sewer on Richmond street at no cost to the city and he thought that instead of being charged for entering the sewer the city should allow him something on the cost of the sewer. The matter was referred to the committee on claims.

A communication from the same attorney, regarding the condition of the dump at the Gravel Pit on South road which was overrun with rats, and claiming that the rats were damaging the property of Mrs. Lena Merrill. Councilman Tilton for the Committee on City Lands and Buildings, reported that the committee were working on this matter and asked that the communication be referred to the Committee on Claims and it was so ordered.

The annual report of the Board of Instruction was received, accepted, placed on file and ordered printed.

The auditors report of bills amounting to $1095 were approved and the pay roll for March provided for.

AFRAID TO EAT

Girl Starving On Poorly Selected Food

"Several years ago I was actually starving," writes a Maine girl, "yet dared not eat for fear of the consequences."

"I had suffered indigestion from over-work, irregular meals and improper food, until at last I became so weak I could scarcely eat any food without distress."

"Many foods were tried all with the same discouraging effects. It steadily lost health and strength until I was but a wreck of my former self."

"Having heard of Grape-Nuts and its great merits, I purchased a package, but with little hope that it would help me—I was so discouraged."

"I found it not only appetizing but that I could eat it as I liked and that it satisfied the craving for food without causing distress, and if I may use the expression, 'it filled the bill.'"

"For months Grape-Nuts was my principal article of diet. I felt from the very first that I had found the right way to health and happiness, and my anticipations were fully realized."

"With its continued use I regained my usual strength and health. Today I am well and can eat anything I like yet Grape-Nuts food forms a part of my bill of fare."

MANCHESTER MEN PURCHASE THE HOTEL LANGDON

Judge H. K. Torrey, trustee in bankruptcy for the Langdon Hotel, on Thursday afternoon sold the hotel to Robert J. Hayes of Manchester, who will assume charge immediately. He will have associated with him George G. Mulmberg of Manchester, for several years connected with the New Manchester House in that city.

Judge Torrey in clearing up the estate, found liabilities of $12,000, assets of $2,000 and mortgages of $2000, so that the mortgages will not be even paid in full. The restaurant business on Congress street, run by the same firm, will remain under the same management much to the gratification of the friends of the young men, who no doubt will make good.

WILL GIVE RADIIUM AWAY

Denver, Col., Feb. 19.—The treatment of 150 tons of pitchblende ore, product of a Colorado mine, will be begun here today for the purpose of extracting its radium contents.

Hospitals and other humanitarian institutions are to receive the radium product. None of the product is to be sold, according to instructions received here from A. I. Du Pont of New Jersey, owner of the ore.

The value of the radium contents cannot be estimated, except on the speculative basis that two tons of uranium metal are the equivalent of 100 grams of radium bromide, of which there are only two or three grains in use in the United States. On this basis the ore would have a value of about $360,000.

"BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS" BIG SUCCESS

Bunty Pulls the Strings was the title of a quaint and finely presented three act comedy at the Portsmouth Theatre on Thursday evening. It is a Scotch play and the dialect is hard to follow so that it does not appeal to all, but it is full of bright Scotch humor and thoroughly appreciated by the greater number of theatre goers.

The play was presented by an exceptionally fine cast, in fact there was not a weak spot discernable in the entire company. The characters are difficult to handle and in the hands of anybody but clever people, it would fare ill.

Molly Pearson headed the cast as Bunty Biggar and she made a delightful character of this fascinating woman, and in the end well earned the title of Bunty Pulls the Strings. Sue got excellent support from James Finlayson as Rob Biggar and J. B. McGregor as Tammas Biggar. Polly Griffin as Susie Simpson was delightful in her part. William Lennox as Weelum Sprunt was also a clever actor who had a difficult roll which he handled well. The cast:

Bunty Biggar Molly Pearson
Rob Biggar James Finlayson
Susie Simpson Polly Griffin
Tammas Biggar J. B. McGregor
Weelum Sprunt William Lennox
Beelen Dunlop Mabel Stanton
Teenie Dunlop, Beelen's niece Violet Dale

TENNIS PLAYER STABS HIMSELF WITH SCARF PIN

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—Shattered in health, owing to worry, Carlton Gardner, at one time a noted tennis player, yesterday stabbed himself with a scarf pin while on a visit to members of his family in Palo Alto.

Gardner had been detained by the police because of his actions on the streets. He was taken to a hospital where it was found that the pin had penetrated the lower portion of the heart. When restored to consciousness he was removed to a sanitarium in San Jose where it was said today his condition is serious.

According to his physician, Gardner has been ill for some time, but largely to worry because he was not winning his way as an artist rapidly enough.

Gardner has played in many tennis tournaments, including those of Newport, R. I. and Del Monte. In this state he has won several Pacific coast championships. In the season of '12 he was ranked among the 10 best players in the United States.

UNABLE TO AGREE ON THE TRUSTEES

Washington, Feb. 18.—Conferees between officials of the Department of Justice, the State of Massachusetts and the New Haven Railroad, over the terms of the separation of that road from the Boston & Maine, came to an end last night, without a complete agreement. Chairman Elliott and counsel for the New Haven, after two days in Washington, left for New York to attend a meeting of the New Haven board of directors today. It was understood that Mr. Elliott will present for its sanction the terms of the agreement which have been passed upon at the meetings here. It is not expected to return to Washington until next week, but it was said on good authority that the suspension of the negotiations did not indicate a failure of the conference but that a

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with Lung Trouble, or if you know of some unfortunate person who is, do not fail to try the medicine which has brought about complete recovery in a number of very serious cases. Dr. Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Trouble, has been given the fullest credit of restoring health in a large number of cases. Read this:—
"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1903 I had an attack of grippe, followed by pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and rapid quivering of nerves—looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages of one time three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became as distasteful as I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me, but I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had a good night's sleep for the first time. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well."
(Abbreviated; more on request.)
Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Tracheitis, Asthma, Strabismus, Croup, and in smothering the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries. Write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and in Portsmouth by Benjamin Green.

resumption later would lead to a settlement.

Although the personnel of the board of trustees which is to take over the Boston & Maine stock now controlled by the New Haven had not received the approval of all parties concerned when the conference adjourned last night, it was the understanding that a tentative list of five would be submitted to Attorney General McFadden. This list had been approved by Governor Walsh of Massachusetts and has been examined carefully by T. W. Gregory and Jesse C. Adkins, assistants to the Attorney General in charge of the New Haven case.

When the conference ended, the principal point of difference between the Government and railroad officials was the length of time the proposed trustees for the Boston & Maine should serve. While Chairman Elliott contends that the trust must continue at least five and preferably ten years, the Attorney General has argued that the trustees should not be given more than three years in which to sell the stock. Later in the week, Chairman Elliott will go to Boston, it is said, to confer with Governor Walsh, and it is expected that one of the assistants to the Attorney General also will go.

NO WORD FROM THE KINEU

Five Master Last Reported Disabled and Making Water Fast is Sought by Revenue Cutter.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 19.—Wireless calls sweeping over the sea from the radio towers on the Middle Atlantic coast, revenue cutters and numbers of steam ships today found no trace of the five-mastered schooner Kineu of Bath, Me., last reported yesterday making twice batches of water an hour and in a disabled condition. The schooner with her crew of eleven had been in bad fortune for the last month; twice she had her hull blown away by southern gales and once put into port for safety. When she was sighted by the steamer city of Atlanta, yesterday, it did not seem necessary for the liner to take off her crew, but the revenue cutter Onondaga began a search. The Kineu was then 160 miles northeast of Diamond Shoals.

STEAMER GIVES UP SEARCH.

The Metapan Unable to Find the Kineu—Goes Back to Board.

New York, Feb. 19.—The United Fruit steamer Metapan, which reported yesterday that she had paused in her voyage to this port from Panama in an effort to aid the schooner Kineu, in trouble off Cape Hatteras, sent a wireless message here today saying that she had given up the search for the schooner and would reach New York late today. Among the passengers is Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama Canal, who is coming to confer with President Wilson with reference to permanent organization of the canal zone of which he has been appointed governor.

DECLINE OF INDEPENDENCE

The time was when almost anybody in the shop, except the boys, could run any new machine tool brought in. The idea of sending for a demonstrator or calling upon the builder of the machine for help never entered anyone's mind. The sturdy native independence of everyone was opposed to this. No one was willing to admit that he couldn't run any machine that the other fellow could build.

But times change, and it almost seems as if the men in the shop had changed. It is a common thing today to send for a representative of a machine tool building firm, even on the most trivial pretext. Operators have been sent hundreds of miles to find no thing to do but tighten a driving nut or replace an insignificant helical spring, or point out to the superintendent that he was falling to get production because of poor crane service. Expensive machine tools have been found stuck because of a lack of oil in important bearings. In others an attempt has been made to feed heavy grease through a long small pipe intended to convey thin splay oil; the present-day operator believed that the brass oil cup was a compression grease cup. Instances of this kind might be multiplied. They plainly show both lack of care of the machines and an unwillingness to find out the cause of one's own trouble and apply the obvious remedy.

CALIFORNIA AGAIN FLOODED

Many Cities in Southern Part of State Cut Off by Downfall of from Six to Eight Inches.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—Southern California was flood-bound today as a result of a down-pour which started at midnight Tuesday and yielded from six to eight inches of rain in the thirty-two hours ending at eight a. m. today. Railroad traffic was paralyzed. In the cities the streets were turned into mill races. Storm drains were over-taxed and irrigation canals whelmed into lakes. The storm brought a recurrence of flood conditions that attended the rainfall of a month ago. Railroad tracks on both sides of Santa Barbara were washed out. Bridges also were torn out. Throughout the citrus belt washouts blocked trains. The southern Pacific, the Salt Lake and the Santa Fe Railroads, the three lines entering Los Angeles, all were compelled to route trains over a Santa Fe branch running through Fullerton. All other lines were out of commission. Elmer Osterman, a thirteen-year old boy was drowned yesterday at Santa Barbara. This was the only fatality reported here. In some sections of Los Angeles, streets were under ten feet of water for a brief period. Fire engines were requisitioned to pump out the flooded basements of several large buildings.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will hold the quarterly examination on April 1, 1914, for filling vacancies in the following mechanical trades and non-educational positions as they may occur in the Lighthouse Service, Engineer Department at Large, Quartermaster Corps, U. S. A., and other branches of the Government service in Portland, Me.; and vicinity: Assistant marine steam engineer, carpenter, marine fireman, mate, oiler, stationery fireman, inspector and deputy inspector of dumping, and inspector and deputy inspector of dredging. Applicants will not be assembled for a mental examination, being rated wholly on physical ability, training, experience, and general fitness.

For Form 1800 and Form 1372, pamphlet of information, apply to C. E. Jellison, Local Secretary, Room 26 Postoffice Building, Portland, or Edward E. Stebbins, Dist. Secretary, Postoffice Bldg., Boston Mass. Applications must be filed with the latter on or before March 16.

RADIO APPARATUS MISPLACED

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 19.—The position of the wireless apparatus on the steamship Monitor, which was sunk by the Nantucket off the Virginia coast with a loss of forty-one lives, made it impossible to send out "S. O. S." calls except for a few seconds after the crash, according to Robert L. Etheridge, a wireless operator aboard the Monitor, who testified yesterday at the trial of Captain Osmyr Berry of the Nantucket, charged with negligence. Etheridge said the wireless outfit was misplaced on nearly all coastwise vessels.

WOULD HAVE A BOND ISSUE FOR ALASKA RAILROAD

Washington, Feb. 18.—Administration leaders were confident today that before the end of the week President Wilson would put his signature to the bill authorizing him to build 4000 miles of railroad from an Alaskan sea port to tap the great coal fields in the interior of the territory. The measure has passed both branches of Congress by overwhelming votes, and today advanced to the stage of conference on house amendments, with everybody anxious for its passage to the White House.

As passed by the House last night, 230 to 87 the bill would provide that the President construct the railroad with $35,000,000 to be appropriated as needed from the Treasury, $1,000,000 being made available immediately and in his own discretion, to have the line operated by the Government or leased to private contractors. The Senate bill proposed a bond issue of $40,000,000 to be redeemed out of Alaska's resources, to finance the project.

Sentiment in the Senate is strong for the bond issue, while in the House Representative Fitzgerald's proposal to have the money taken directly from the United States Treasury was adopted by a vote of 88 to 87. This question is the only standing block in the path of the conference, but both sides are satisfied that no disagreement as to methods will long delay an agreement.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's a Simple Recipe that Anybody Can Apply With a Hair Brush

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmothers' time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. Just brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for a 50c bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair, and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

As well known down-town druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.
